

TURNKEY SOLUTIONS - MEDICAL IMAGING EQUIPMENT

CT, MRI, R/F, Rad Rooms, and most complex systems require special attention to planning, timing, and budget. NCD Medical's approach is to develop a client – consultant partnership process to enable your organization to acquire the highest quality, most dependable and most competitively priced equipment available. There will be no surprises because you will be with us during the entire process. Here's how it works

Our Unique Consultative Process involves a direct partnership with you, our client, to solve your equipment needs. The first step in this process is an initial meeting with all key personnel, which enables us to determine your exact purchase requirements. By the end of this meeting we will have a clear concise understanding of: Equipment Specifications, Siting Location, Timeframe & Budget. We waive our fee and expenses for this meeting to insure you have an opportunity to meet without cost or obligation.

Armed with this information, we search our national database of hospitals, imaging centers and dealers to find an exact match to your specific requirements. After thoroughly investigating these systems, we identify the systems, which most closely meet your requirements and present them to your group.

In a second consultation with us, the client and NCD, select the specific system of choice that best meets your needs. We then proceed to the equipment acquisition stage. The system is purchased, carefully de-installed and moved to our refurbishing center. The client is welcome to visit the equipment at any point in this process, to observe first hand the progress.

Refurbished Equipment You Can Trust because the system is completely disassembled and skillfully refurbished by qualified OEM trained engineers in our 10,000 square foot facility, to meet or exceed vendor specifications. The result is equipment that looks and functions like new. Our systems are thoroughly tested before they leave our facility to provide you with first-rate image quality and extended life cycles. Our high quality equipment is certified and fully eligible for an OEM extended service agreement. For CT scanners we can even provide a glassware warranty if you choose. A comprehensive 60 day parts & labor warranty is standard.

Turnkey Installation to meet your timeframe and special requirements insures you don't have to worry about how to get this equipment installed. Leave it to us to coordinate this process completely hassle free with the most qualified and experienced service engineers in the industry. We will contract, schedule and oversee the process from delivery to final specification testing and calibration, which insures your satisfaction, and allows you to concentrate on other important issues.
